Private inspections are still allowed by appointment but are limited to one real estate agent and one buyer at a time. Face masks must also be worn.

Anyone from Greater Sydney must obtain a permit to inspect real estate in regional NSW. They can only inspect real estate in regional NSW if it is a home to live in - not an investment property.

For the rest of NSW:

Regional areas that are still recording COVID cases are subject to the same restrictions on real estate activity as Greater Sydney during the lockdown period, with inspections limited to private appointments only.

Regional areas deemed low risk and which have seen zero COVID cases for at least 14 days came out of lockdown on Saturday 11 September
